Editor's Note

This newsletter remains one of our key platforms to keep the people of Mopani informed about programmes implemented by the Municipality.

The lockdown has of course presented a daunting challenge. We have however adapted to the new normal. We have been able to optimally utilize other available communication platforms to consistently communicate activities of government at this level. Many people are now following our activities on our Facebook Page.

We write to you on the backdrop of yet another eventful quarter in which we have seen the Executive Mayor engage with the people of Mopani through the mayoral imbizo programme. And to borrow from his words, we are a democratic local government, therefore the Imbizo is an opportunity for us to engage with the public in the implementation of the medium term strategic framework (our programme of action espoused through the IDP), which is centered around the ultimate goal of improving the lives of people around the district.

We are building towards the launch of the District Development Model, which is about consolidating the plans of all spheres of government and the private sector into the district space to ensure that we fast-track issues of service provision to the people.

We still invite members of the public to engage with us on how best we can make our communications platforms more interactive. It is only through engagements that we are able to get a sense of where we need to improve as a municipality, especially on the information needs of our people.

EXECUTIVE MAYOR 'S FOREWORD

sacrifices that we were able to save many lives in our district and across the country.

We are concluding the third quarter of the 2020/21 financial year – this on the backdrop of our ongoing battle against the coronavirus pandemic. We are of course observing a decline in the number of infections recorded in the district. But, we are also warned of the possible third wave. Therefore, we should remain vigilant. We must continue to do the right things such as wearing of masks, practising social distancing and washing our hands with soap and water or sanitizing.

We should at the same time acknowledge the progress made by government in the rollout of the vaccine programme.

On behalf of the leadership collective, we wish to express our heartfelt appreciation to the brave frontline workers who continue to be of great service to the people of our district. It is indeed because of their selfless

We are just a few weeks away from the launch of the new District Development Model. We have done a lot of work in reaching out to various sectors to ensure the launch is a success. Recently, we had a successful engagement with the private sector. In the main, the session was about lobbying the private sector for buy-in, which is very key if the Model is to be implemented successfully here in the district.

The active participation by the private sector is very important because the socio-economic profiling of the district should be constituted also by programmes and projects from the private sector for maximum impact across the district. And we said during that engagement that the private sector should occupy the space and begin to play a prominent role in influencing government spending.

Through our joint efforts, we will be able to move the informal economy which is led largely by the black majority from the periphery to the centre, from the margins to the core of the economy. This is only possible if we integrate our plans and work as a collective. It is only through our collective actions and pulling of resources in the same direction that we will be able to significantly alter the socio-economic conditions of our people.

The Model presents an opportunity for us at this level to pull all budgets from other spheres of government into the district. We should then be able to advance the efforts to localize empowerment so that the money meant for the people of Mopani circulate in this district, and impact positively on the lives of our people.

We are currently hosting a team from the Auditor General's office, and we are offering the best support we can to that important institution. We are confident that the outcome of this process will be a reflection of our commitment to the people of this district. At the centre of everything we do is our commitment to ensure that together, we continue to advance people's power in every community.

Indeed, it's also important that we congratulate the Matric Class of 2020 as a unique generation that has faced so much hardship, but still able to rise against all odds. We congratulate them, and our view is that their firm resolve should serve as an inspiration to the next generations, but of immediate is the Matric Class of 2021

As we approach the Easter Weekend, we wish to appeal that we all continue to work as a collective so that we are able to save lives during this period. We wish to further extend our gratitude to the taxi industry. They have been supportive of our work throughout, and we want to appreciate that. I take this opportunity to wish the people of Mopani a joyous Easter Weekend.

"Stay Safe: Act responsibly and stay protected always."

Communities of Sekhimini and Ga-Kuranta are celebrating the consistent supply of safer drinking water following the completion of the Sand Water Extraction Project which was launched by Human Settlement, Water and Sanitation Minister Lindiwe Sisulu late last year.

A delighted Marcia Sekopana who is 92 years old said she never thought she would have water in her yard. "I was spending my pension money paying for water from those with donkey carts or relied on my grandchildren to fetch water from the river. We are very happy that government has given us water. We want to thank our leaders."

Selina Masenya who is a member of the water committee in the village said the community was happy with the daily water supply. "We used to do laundry in the river, and would wake up in the early hours to go and queue. At times we would spend the whole day there and that meant preparing a lunchbox when going for laundry. Before this project, I could only afford to bath once a day because of water scarcity. We are happy that Minister Sisulu thought of us. We also want to appreciate the efforts from the Municipality, because the team responds swiftly when there are pipe bursts."

Mokgadi Senanye said water is flowing every day, but there are few households without yard connections. "Honestly, there is plenty of water. We never thought we would this much water. We are no longer crying for water in this village, though we do have few households who do not have connections in their yards. We believe the municipality will assist the households with connections."

Speaking during the launch last year, Sisulu said that South Africans must embrace innovations to find solutions to the water challenges facing the country. "In a country as dry as ours, innovation is absolutely essential. There is another company here in Limpopo experimenting with extracting water from the atmosphere. So, we can't be resistant to new ideas.

The project was implemented in the Molototsi river by Lepelle Northern Water, with the Minister saying "I am grateful for all the cooperation Lepelle Northern Water received from the two spheres of government here in Limpopo.

"This is a solution for rural areas struggling with water. We are looking for any solution that can be found to service the needs of our people. Without water there is no life," she said.

Sisulu condemned people who disrupt infrastructure projects because of 30% sub-contracting. "Most of our people who do not have a job find it easy to stop a project when it starts. We have to find a way of fighting this. We must find a way of educating our people and say – anything that benefits mankind finally benefits everyone."

She praised the interim board chairperson of Lepelle Northern Water, Joe Mathebula saying he has brought changes to the changes. "Water is part of his life. He was in Robben Island and water was part of his life. We thank you for bringing water to this community. We had a great deal of problems before he came."

"This is a solution for rural areas struggling with water. We are looking for any solution that can be found to service the needs of our people. Without water there is no life,"

MMC Maditshego Sefufi said the Municipality will be responsible for operation and maintenance. "As the water service authority, we want to commit to work with all key role players at the level of local municipalities to ensure sustainability of this project. We are also going to need the support of community structures in ensuring that the infrastructure is protected against vandalism," she said.

Community of Lephephane excited over water reticulation project

The community of Lephephane (longvalley) is excited over the water supply reticulation project which is set to benefit 700 households with yard connections.

The project worth over R28 million also includes the rehabilitation work on two reservoirs, installation of fire hydrants. It has created 46 work opportunities created so far, and the end date is 30 May 2021.

Ivy Malematja, a mother of three boys said the project has helped her to buy basic necessities for the family. "I started in February, and since then I was able to buy shoes for the kids and also send something to my eldest son who is at the Capricorn TVET college. But what makes me happier is the fact that we would have water in our homes upon completion of this project."

Portia Sekgotlaboroga, also a mother of three kids said she is happy to be working in project that will bring water to the community.

"I have never had a proper job in my life, so I'm excited to be working on a project of this magnitude."

The Executive Mayor Cllr Pule Shayi announced during his Mayoral Imbizo in February that work has commenced on the Lephephane RWS reticulation which is to benefit the residents of Raselabana village. "We are recording 10% progress there. And the work is around pipe laying, yard connections with meters, refurbishment of three (3) reservoirs, but electrical works for the boreholes and pump station. At least 30 labourers are benefiting from that project."

He also said he is happy with progress made on the rural households sanitation project. "We are making steady progress in our rural household sanitation project, where we are building 8370 VIP toilets across the district, at least 1674 in each local municipality. A total of 7535 have benefited as labourers from this project. We are confident of completing the project by May 31. "

MDM meets with the private sector as it moves closer to DDM launch

The Mopani District Municipality hosted a consultative session with the private sector at Karibu Leisure Resort as it mobilizes support for the new district development model to be launched on the 16th of April.

The Executive Mayor Cllr Pule Shayi told the business community that the Municipality has done much consultation with the other spheres of government, but needed the private sector to come on board. "Our efforts to ground the DDM continues with this buying-in from the private sector which is very important.

"We have done our internal work as government, and it's important that we bring to this space the private sector because the socio-economic profiling of the district should be constituted also by programmes and projects from the private sector for maximum impact across the district."

He said that the private sector had a role to play in influencing infrastructure development in the district. "This is a platform to influence government spending. We need to pull all budgets from other spheres of government into the district. This gives us an opportunity to advance the efforts to localize empowerment so that the money meant for the people of Mopani circulate in this district, and impact positively on the lives of our people."

The Executive Mayor said that the DDM presents an opportunity for the establishment of a special economic zone on agriculture. "If our competitive advantage is mining and agriculture, and our neighbouring district is Vhembe which predominantly agriculture, there is nothing stopping us from exploring for a special economic zone on agriculture between the two districts.

"Through our joint efforts, we will be able to move the informal economy which is led largely by the black majority from the periphery to the centre, from the margins to the core of the economy. This is only possible if we integrate our plans and work as a collective. It is only through our collective actions and pulling of resources in the same direction that we will be able to significantly alter the socio-economic conditions of our people."

Executive Mayor hails the role of traditional leaders as he addresses World TB Day event

"The clock is ticking: Let's find, treat and end TB now,"

Executive Mayor Cllr Pule Shayi has hailed the role played by traditional leaders and civil society organizations in the fight against TB, saying "We want to express our deep appreciation for the role played by our royal leaders in the Cheka Impilo campaign, which is aligned to our National Strategic Plan. The overall goal of the National Strategic Plan is the elimination of HIV, TB and STIs as public health threats by the year 2030."

The Executive Mayor was addressing the District TB Day event on Tuesday, 30 March at Maphalle village. The event was held under the theme: "The clock is ticking: Let's find, treat and end TB now," which is in line with the World TB Day for this year. This theme underlines the importance of this social compact. The tagline is: "Unite to end TB in our communities."

He said that despite the massive progress recorded in the fight against TB over the years, as many as 1,4 million people in the world still lost their lives to the disease every year. "We are saying TB is preventable and curable. We urge our communities to go to their nearest clinics and get tested for TB at no cost, especially when they display these symptoms: coughing for more than 2 weeks, night sweats, unexplained weight loss, and fever. The tests are much easier and quick."

He also said that the fight against TB is important within the context of the ongoing battle against Covid-19. People with TB may have weak immune system and may be at risk of getting infected with Covid-19. A person who has TB is at risk of suffering more severe symptoms from Covid-19, but the risks are even higher for a person who is HIV positive and diabetic.

"Then we should take treatment as soon as we test positive for TB. It is also important that we continue to practice healthy lifestyle. We must always wash our hands with soap and water, but also cover our mouth when we cough or sneeze. We should not lose more lives from TB when treatment is available. We also know that TB is curable even if you are HIV positive.

"But having said, people living with HIV should be screened regularly for TB for we know that TB is closely linked to HIV and is the leading cause of illness and death among people living with HIV. We do emphasize though, that TB is curable," the Executive Mayor said.

Transport MEC and Executive Mayor lead programme to disinfect taxi rank in Tzaneen

Transport and Community Safety MEC Mavhungu Lerule-Ramakhanya and Executive Mayor Cllr Pule Shayi led a programme of disinfecting the taxi rank in the Tzaneen Crossing Mall on Tuesday, 19 January.

They handed over sanitizers and disinfectant sprayers to the taxi associations. "As the department we are responding to the challenges that we face. We have seen more people going back to work using public transport and we also responding to the calls of the district command councils in the province. All the district command councils have indicated that they have identified taxi ranks as spreaders of covid-19," the MEC said.

She also said the department will continue to support the taxi industry and regard taxi drivers as frontline workers. "taxi drivers must know we regard them as front liners. They are at a risk at risk each day when they transport people. They are at risk when they exchange customers

"So, we are also here to remind them to wear their masks and clean their taxis. They must also tell their passengers not to eat in the taxis, but to wear their masks until they reach their destination."

Executive Mayor Cllr Pule Shayi who is also the chairperson of the district command council said supporting the taxi industry is key in minimizing the spread of covid-19. "This is part of our ongoing intervention in the battle against the pandemic. We handed over sprayers and sanitizer so that we able to impact positively in keeping the entire taxi rank clean, but also ensuring that our people are safe."

Speaking on behalf of Santaco, Schneider Mhlongo who is the district training officer said the association has the support of government at all levels. "We want to appreciate the support we receive from the municipalities and government departments since the start of this pandemic. They have been standing side by side with us.

"There were times when people were saying this is Limpopo covid-19 will not survive here. So, it's important to have our leaders reminding us that covid-19 is here. But we are also seeing it ourselves having lost people closest to us," he said.

Executive Mayor says the church must continue to uplift the spirit of those dejected by Covid-19

The Mopani District Municipality Executive Mayor Cllr Pule Shayi has called on religious leaders to take a lead in uplifting the spirit of those who have lost hope as Covid-19 continues to destroy the economy and claim lives of people across the globe.

Speaking during the district virtual prayer on Monday 08 February, Shayi said the district prayer is about praying for healing of those infected with covid-19, but also for strength to the frontline workers and all those who have lost loved ones to the virus, saying "we pray also for those who have lost hope for we know that hope is what will sustain us."

He said that the pandemic has disrupted lives and has added enormous strain on efforts to rebuild the economy and create jobs. "The livelihoods of our people is now heavily depended on government's social relief programmes, which may not be sustainable. The pandemic has pushed our people to the edge of hopelessness and despair."

The Executive Mayor used the opportunity to appeal for communities to participate in the vaccination programme. "And we are saying this as leaders at this level, that we should all choose to be vaccinated so that we are able to protect our loved ones. It is the simplest things such as getting vaccinated that will demonstrate the love that we have for our communities."

He said that the church must never get weary in praying against the demon of corruption and malfeasance, saying "as we continue to be of service to the people of our district, we also know that the devil is always creeping around waiting to pounce and co-opt leaders into his evil deeds, and it is only through prayer that we are able resist his persistent attempts."

"It is only through the Word of God, that we are able to emulate Christ, be selfless and seek righteousness at all times. We say this because we know that corruption and malfeasance robs our people of quality service delivery, and we take seriously the role of the church in praying for leaders, not only in government but in civil society and in the private sector," said Shayi.

The Executive Mayor also thanked churches in their prayers for rain. "Through your sustained prayers, we have seen the unfailing grace of the Almighty God. The recent rains have brought much relief to the district. Standing here today we are able to confirm that water levels in most of our dams have increased significantly over the past few weeks." also seeing it ourselves having lost people closest to us," he said.

MEC Masemola introduces contractors for three major roads in the district.

MEC Dickson Masemola has introduced the contractor for the D3840 road (Giyani to Phalaborwa) to the community, represented by leaders from the royal councils. He said the delay in the appointment was caused by the department's decision to opt for public tender instead of shortlisting contractors from the panel.

"There are just so many opportunists when progress is recorded. They are writing all over social media suggesting the MEC is coming to Giyani because of them. I have never received any love letter myself. I have been working with the leaders of this community, interacting with His Royal Highness.

"I have been interacting with the mayor of Giyani and the leadership of the district. Those are the offices I have been working with. Those opportunists are trying their luck. We want to place it on record, that the government of the ANC is here today to fix the long outstanding problem on this road," Masemola said.

He also handed over the contractors for the D3200 (Mohlabaeng) and the D11 (Ga-Mamaila) road, saying "The new dawn is in full action as pronounced by the president."

He said the projects will create work opportunities for the community, but added that the contractors must be given space to work.

“These industrial machines should be able to integrate the nature of skills they have at this level, but also improve their capacity to massify the quantities of the material they should be producing. Working with the LED unit in our municipality, we should be able to link them with the market out there for opportunities. We hold a view that this intervention will go a long in helping our SMMEs. Executive Mayor calls on communities to close ranks and safeguard schools

Executive Mayor Cllr Pule Shayi has expressed his satisfaction with the level of Covid-19 compliance at the schools visited in Maruleng Municipality as part of the District's back to school campaign programme.

He however expressed his concern at the number of burglaries in schools across the district. At least four of the six schools visited so far have reported burglaries. 'We are worried that a number of schools have been targeted by criminals, and important tools such as laptops which are supposed to enhance learning and teaching are stolen. Laptops are very key in assisting our children especially in the context of the fourth industrial revolution. We are calling on our communities to close ranks and safeguard our schools.'

The Executive Mayor, who was accompanied by the Speaker of MDM Cllr Wireless Sedibeng, and the Department of Education's Mopani West District Manager urged the leadership at Mosibudi High School, Lorraine Banareng Primary School and Ramatau High School to continue observing Covid-19 protocols "We cannot lower our guards now. The Covid-19 health protocols have to be respected.

He also said that the District Command Council is coordinating efforts to ensure that roads damaged by the recent rains are maintained. "Through the District Command Council, we have implored local municipalities, working with the Department of Public Works, Roads and Infrastructure to work faster in maintaining roads, prioritising the road networks that connect our communities with key institutions such as schools."

He said that the delayed reopening of schools meant that educators and learners needed to work extra hard to achieve good results at the end of the academic year. "We are here just to say that you are not alone on this journey."
